Vision

To be a leading entity in imparting photography learning, with knowledge modules bringing together the very best of visual arts and professional education.

Mission

Our mission is to spot, nurture and educate talented students to become successful photography professionals.

Value

We are driven to enrich educational experiences in and out of our classroom environment to enliven and broaden our students' minds, horizons and thinking to facilitate creativity.

THE WORLD^{OF} IIP

With the vision of providing professional learning to the ardent photographers, Indian Institute of Photography introduced itself as a pacesetter in the growing photography learning industry in 2010.

Today, the institute prides itself on its student centric approach and its handling of photography as a professional, vocational subject.

Creativity cannot be taught in classrooms, it is the end product of an adventurous mind.

We have highly experienced faculty and well-designed courses, what we also have is a deep understanding of the exact requirements of a budding photographer.

Creativity, being the primary asset of every artistic, professional, is instilled in our students in every phase of their learning. Our courses are designed to keep the students constantly on their toes, while at the same time infusing in them the same passion and love we have for photography. Our range of courses lets the students decide exactly the level of proficiency they want to develop, and the flexibility to do it at their comfort.

Methodology that paves your world

We aim not only to create successful students, but also to ensure that this success extends out of the classroom, shaping our graduates and preparing them for the real world battles. Further,

IIP have also set the bar higher by maintaining effective alliances with the industry, incorporating professional expertise and inculcating thorough feedback from industry professionals regarding professional practices and modules.

Bringing together the world of IIP

Rajesh Goyal
Founder Director, IIP

"My own interest in Photography and deep abiding commitment to share my passion with others led to the establishment of the Indian Institute of Photography. The driving force behind this progress is creativity and innovation. At IIP, we offer a unique blend of teaching, research, and collaboration that can help you explore the possibilities and make informed plans and decisions along your journey of becoming a photographer.

Today, IIP is indeed proud to enjoy an international reputation for its continued excellence in photography learning courses, both professional and amateur. Further strengthened with applied research and engagement through the industry and the community at large.

As we forge to move ahead with the times, we are looking at avenues to enhance student experiences, delivering exceptional educational outcomes and producing work-ready graduates based on IIP's path breaking learning and teaching modules."

We are here to strengthen your world

Based on the above pillars, we at IIP follow an approach that focuses on what one does right instead of what one does wrong. We believe that this approach leads to higher levels of student engagement, increased self-awareness, and a better understanding of how to make your strengths work for you in the long run.

Our guiding lights
from around the world

An internationally known photographer who has been acclaimed for most iconic voices in contemporary photography for more than 30 years.
Best known for his photographs that are rich, vibrant, color prints, showcasing small moments of daily life struggles and joys.

Steve McCurry

Steve McCurry was born in Philadelphia. Graduated from the College of Arts and Architecture at the Pennsylvania State University, he got a degree in cinematography. It was in India that he discovered his passionate interest in the religion.

He is well known for capturing international and civil conflicts such as the Iran-Iraq War, Beirut, Cambodia, the Philippines, the Gulf War and the continuing strife in Afghanistan. Steve's career high point was undoubtedly the National Geographic cover photo of the previously unidentified Afghan refugee girl, Sharbat Gula whom he located and photographed again nearly two decades after the original. That picture has been described as the most recognizable photograph in the world today with her being referred to as the "Afghan Mona Lisa".

IIP's Strengths

- Developing an aesthetic approach in photography and photo imaging through industry training and academic study
- Learning will take place within project-based studio environments for active participation and developing skills in key processes
- Engage with broader critical analyses of the historical, theoretical and cultural contexts of photography
- Experience a variety of learning and teaching approaches. They will include studio-based environments, production workshops, lectures and seminars
- Individual and team-based projects collaborating with industries such as fashion, journalism, design, architecture, and music

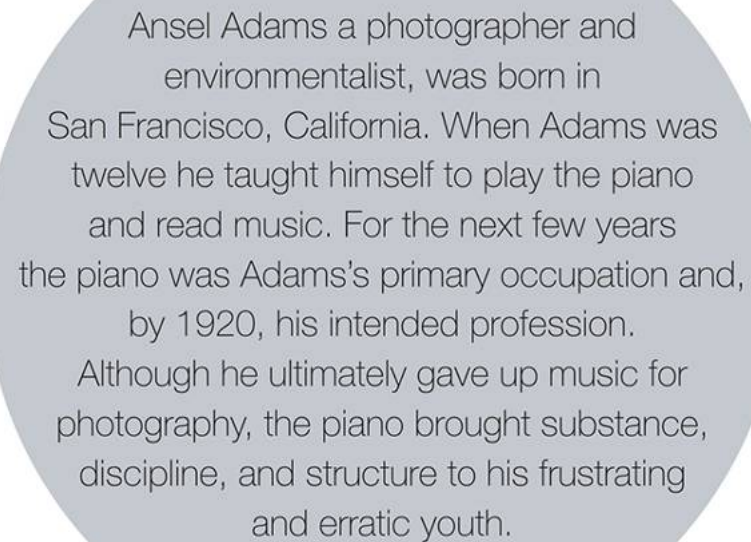

Our guiding lights
from around the world

Ansel Adams

One of the most famous photographers of all time, particularly known for his remarkable images of the American wilderness.

Adams placed great value upon technical mastery of his craft, carefully evaluating gradations of light in the image,
manipulating the degree of exposure,
and constantly experimenting with new techniques.

Ansel Adams a photographer and environmentalist, was born in San Francisco, California. When Adams was twelve he taught himself to play the piano and read music. For the next few years the piano was Adams's primary occupation and, by 1920, his intended profession. Although he ultimately gave up music for photography, the piano brought substance, discipline, and structure to his frustrating and erratic youth.

Best of both the worlds - Learning and teaching

We have the keenness to develop an aesthetic approach in photography and picture imaging through industry training and academic study. Inculcating learning within a project-based studio environment. Engaging with broader aspects of the historical, theoretical and cultural contexts of photography.

Annie Leibovitz

She was the first woman who was assigned as a chief photographer for the Rolling Stone Magazine.
Annie Leibovitz was also the last person to take pictures of John Lennon just hours before he was murdered.

Born on October 2, 1949,
in Waterbury, Connecticut, Anna-Lou Leibovitz developed a love for photography at the San Francisco Art Institute.
Till date Leibovitz is known for her iconic work for Rolling Stone covers and several award-winning advertising campaigns.

Our Guiding Lights
From Around The World

Robert Capa

Picture Post on 3, December 1938, introduced the greatest war
photographer in the World, Robert Capa. But the irony was, he hated war from the core of his heart. He was a unique visual chronicler of several 20th-century wars in the world in the history of photography.

Robert Capa whose original name was Friedmann Endre Ernő, was born in 1913 in Budapest, Hungary. In Life Magazine, he covered much of the heaviest fighting in Africa, Sicily, and Italy during the World War II. His photographs of the Normandy Invasion became some of the most memorable of the war. The year 1954 marked the end of a legend as he volunteered to photograph the French Indochina War for Life and was killed by a land mine while on assignment. His death established his reputation for being a quintessentially fearless photojournalist.

The process of grooming at IIP involves various steps

Education

We educate by inculcating out of the box thinking and providing practical hands on experiences. We instigate students to excel in work by enabling theoretical learning with practical knowledge. Helping them carve a portfolio that reflects their own unique style with an understanding of light, space, composition, color, technique and context.

Interaction

Although we lead by example, we also work together and interact with students on every integral photography subject. Whether it is formal or informal exchange of interaction, the idea is to hone every subject understanding related to photography.

Critiquing

With an aim for a better feedback and insightful to the students. A deep rooted approach to ensure that the students adhere to prescribed methods for photography that help in their progress and pushing them to nurture their ideas and work. This is religiously taken forward by an exhibition and contest conducted in-house or from the industry that offer ample opportunities for a holistic feedback.

Challenging

We work towards building courage among students and prompt them to do well at the institute campus so that they are ready and trained to face the harsh world outside.

Simulation

We create a real world at an in-house photo studio where they can test their ability to work as a photographer. By providing an opportunity to shoot a subject, they can practice how to actually behave in a professional environment.

Shaping

We work towards transforming every student into a professional photographer through intensive classroom projects. By providing various internship experiences as we work towards making them industry ready.

Celebrate

A beginner starting out with the first DSLR, or an enthusiast that wants to be a pro, we cultivate in them the professionalism and guide to choose a right path. This approach has fetched us many achievements for us as well as our students who are making a big name in the industry. By showcasing their achievements, we are celebrating the moment to inspire the young minds.

Cultivate

We work towards promoting supportive relationships to build an effective network. By imbibing professional culture they develop thoughts that generate viable ideas. It is our motive to nurture values among them to obtain winning traits.

Shine

We give a chance to the student to outshine and offer them an opportunity to represent work across media, festivals, contests and exhibition.
